

A Pandemic Picture Book

A picture book celebrating the joys of homebound life and the collective heroism of our fight against COVID-19.

A dual volume: two stories that start from each end of a flippable book. The flippable dual structure of the book seemed a natural expression of its yin-yang nature. The first poem, The House We Sheltered In, is inward-looking. It's about comfort and security. The second poem, The Masks We Wore, is outward-looking, about the actions we took in the world to combat the virus.

Now available!

Published by Three Daughters Press, 2023

Written by Freeman Ng

Illustrated by 14 Illustrators

ISBN: 978-0-9906197-9-6

Paperback - Picture Book

Pages: 48 Price: $14.94

Available at Amazon, Lulu and Bookshop.

Freeman Ng is the author of Basho's Haiku Journeys, a haiku picture book, Who Am I?, a personalizable picture book, and the forthcoming Bridge Across The Sky (Atheneum Books for Young Readers, 2024) a Young Adult novel-in-verse about the Chinese immigration experience through Angel Island in the early 1900's.

Illustrator Team: Alicia Schwab, Annie Kuhn, Brigitte West, Cheryl Ann Warren, Eshanthie Tyner, Gabriela Vega, Haley Grunloh, Jessica Chrysler, Juliana Castro, Rebecca Hoenig, Ruby Michelle, Sara Nintzel, Olivia Pinney, and Wendy Roble

Contact

<https://pandemicpb.com/>

contact@AuthorFreeman.com.

Twitter @AuthorFreeman @Aschwabart

Instagram @authorfreeman5 @schwab.alicia